19th December 2018 - Komodo's #Sapling upgrade was activated smoothly, providing a huge tech boost to more than 40 #blockchains in the #Komodo ecosystem. Also, all KMD funds must be moved out of z-addresses by Feb 15, 2019. Learn more here: <https://komodoplatform.com/komodos-sapling-upgrade-success/>

30th December 2018 - Dear members, we recently implemented dPoW (delayed Proof of Work) Confirmation field into Komodo and assetchains, thanks to @dukeleto. It basically means any confirmation number it shows for KMD deposit which is more than 1 is secured by dPoW and can't be double spent. With this exchanges are safe to reduce required confirmations to credit any deposits. Works for KMD and AC which has dPoW. Currently, Bittrex and Digital Price exchanges are using this feature. Digital Price already using 20 confs which is pretty fast. We have reached out to Bittrex if they wish to reduce required confs. We will announce we have more info. Thanks for being here. I wish you all a very Happy New Year. P.S.: Agama users can test this feature using Komodo or any assetchain in native mode and sending out a tx. More details on dPoWConf - <https://docs.komodoplatform.com/komodo/dPOW-conf.html>

13th May 2019 - We have released new version of Agama 0.3.6. The updated version has a lot of changes and an improved UI to make it more user friendly. This version changes how you create new wallet in Lite or Native mode and the way you use Lite mode vs Native mode. Direct login using seed or WIF key is no longer supported. You will need to use restore wallet feature first with existing seed or WIF. Concurrent usage of native and lite mode coins is deprecated. From now on you can either run Lite mode coins or Native mode coins during one session. Your coins selection is automatically stored when you add or remove coins. Native mode coins can be started without creating an Agama wallet. Just add them using the login screen. Following security best practices you must write down your seed in a safe place while creating a new account. Do NOT take screenshot or picture of your seed on a machine that is connected to internet. We have updated guides on how to use the new lite mode

4th June 2019 – Kadan Stadelmann CTO - we are at the Money2020, THE flagship fintech event in Europe and the rest of the world. We 've had the pleasure to showcase our new mobile DEX wallet "AtomicDEX mobile" & the first truly grandma-friendly blockchain creation suite with the codename "Chainlizard"- this is our BaaS Webapp that allows you to create a new blockchain with wallets, explorers, sync- & seednode infrastructure, SPV servers, dPoW integration and much more within MINUTES! We also discussed potential partnerships ref. 3rd party-utilization of "AtomicAPI", our 3rd gen marketmaker software = DEX core. And last but not least we 've checked out the blockchain-fintech space for you. Our marketing-team will provide more details soon - stay tuned! <https://twitter.com/0xca333/status/1135915458316492801>

5th June 2019 - Security Alert: if you created or used your seed phrase with Agama please deinstall it, stop using it and immediately rotate your seeds and move all your coins out from there (to a different seed - which was NOT created with Agama) - if you know what you are doing please use either cold-storage (paper-wallets, offline storage, ...), the KomodoOcean wallet or komodo-cli. We will provide you an alternative desktop wallet very soon. If you need assistance please reach out to our support team: #support. Our team will provide you all details of the incident in the coming days. This does only affect seeds that were used or created with Agama for Desktop, Mobile or Browser.

5th June 2019 - If you have missing funds from today, please fill out this claim form and there is no ETA of the refund yet. please keep an eye for announcement <https://forms.gle/kAQYBcN3a5wU83ay7> @everyone please read up the last 3 links. the last one is for claiming your funds that went missing today. the first 2 are to help you move your funds safely to another secure address if you have any coins like KMD, any Assetchains or 3rd-party coins. Please move them all to secure address if you used Agama lite mode in the last 5 months/

5th June 2019 - If you have ETH/ERC20 in old agama, follow this guide:

7th June 2019 - Agama update  (1/3) We started processing the first claims. If your Agama wallet was swept by the Komodo security team, see this support article to learn more about the steps you need to take to re-claim your funds. Please read it carefully:

<https://support.komodoplatform.com/support/solutions/articles/29000029973-steps-to-reclaim-funds-after-the-agama-incident> (2/3) Funds from 1191 vulnerable wallets in total have been secured. We've already started processing the smaller (under 7777 KMD), undisputed claims. Our goal is to refund these by June 15, and settle all remaining by the end of the month. 3. We would like to thank the Verus team for their support

7th June 2019 - <https://komodoplatform.com/update-agama-vulnerability/>

7th June 2019 - Anyone who still has the Komodo version of agama installed (0.3.6/0.3.5/0.3.4/mobile) please uninstall them you don't need it, just having a backup of old seed is enough for any future use

8th June 2019 - PLEASE READ Existing claims are OK and please DONT resubmit same claims again. We will contact you if we need more information. ONLY for NEW Claims from now please use these new forms which are coin specific. Should be easy to fill them up now without much confusion. KMD -

4th July 2019 - We are very excited to announce the public beta phase of AtomicDEX, the industry's only mobile-native decentralized exchange built on anything-to-anything, asset-agnostic atomic swaps. This represents a generational change in atomic swap technology. <http://decrypt.co/7749/komodo-releases-mobile-app> AtomicDEX is a multicoin wallet + DEX hybrid. It is the reference implementation of Komodo's AtomicAPI, the world's first 3rd generation atomic swap tech. After months of internal testing, we are opening up AtomicDEX on Android and iOS for a limited number of beta testers. Sign up at <https://atomicdex.io/> be one of the first to test AtomicDEX, and join us as we continue to revolutionize the blockchain space.

16th July 2019 – Today is one of the most exciting days in Komodo's history: 1. Our new logo and our new messaging are live on <https://komodoplatfrom.com/> 2. The Komodo blockchain and all Smart Chains have been successfully updated at block 1444000. 3. Antara, an adaptable framework for simple, end-to-end blockchain development is now live on the Mainnet. Antara makes it easier than ever before to launch a Smart Chain, activate modules, and start building blockchain-based applications. 4. We are very excited to unveil the public beta of Antara Composer, a web app which lets anyone set up a Smart Chain, and deploy it on AWS complete with seed nodes and mining nodes, in just minutes: <https://composer.kmd.io/> 5. The first 100 people are already testing AtomicDEX, with more to come. 6. Lastly, we completely revamped our developer documentations. With over 1000 pages of content, we believe it is one of the best in the whole industry: <https://developers.komodoplatfrom.com/>

17th July 2019 - The atomicDEX mobile beta program successfully launched on iOS and android and you can now join us in #atomicdex-beta - We want to celebrate this big release with the first part of a special DEX campaign. 29th August 2019 - Komodo's overall goal is to provide developers with the ability to build independent and self-sovereign smart chains that avoid the reliance of single-chain blockchain platforms. As such, Komodo has in no way endorsed the Komodore64(K64) project, nor are we responsible for vetting projects that build on Komodo's open source technology. We are deeply concerned with several seemingly false statements made by members of the K64 team regarding project investments and we strongly advise those interested in participating in their project to practice extreme caution and due diligence ahead of time.

27th September 2019 - Hold your hats! The Komodo Team is pleased to present you the worlds first (pure) web-browser environment executed atomic swap! This means that we will eventually (soon) offer our users a pure web-based atomicDEX application which runs natively IN the web-browser without any external binaries or applications thus making atomicDEX available to pretty much all operating systems, platforms and devices. Expect a dex.komodoplatform.com or web.atomicdex.io soon which basically offers you all the key features of atomicDEX mobile. This also means that the user data, private keys, etc. will always remain on the client-side and at no time will any sensitive data be transferred or stored on our servers. When a user visits the web-DEX URL the atomicDEX application will be loaded into the client/browser and then operates purely client-sided in a fully decentralised and blockchain based fashion. Special thanks to our DEX-core developers and blockchain architects Artem P. known as @artem.pikulin and Artem G. known as @artemciy_dice who turned a vision into reality, jl777 and the rest of the Komodo developer team. Exciting times are ahead! Browser env swap details:

AtomicDEX for Android <https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.komodoplatfrom.atomicdex&hl=en> AtomicDEX for iOS <https://testflight.apple.com/join/c2mOLEoC> Happy swapping!

31st October 2019 - The Komodo team is extremely grateful for the overwhelming response we've received for the AtomicDEX Beta stress test. Due to this huge amount of participation, we hit bottlenecks in our infrastructure much sooner than we had anticipated. This led to a high percentage of swaps not matching properly. As such, we're adjusting the requirements for entry into the prize pool. All you need to do is match one swap and you're eligible to win prizes. It is not a requirement for the swap to successfully complete- one matched swap (1/3) is enough to make into the prize pool.

31st October 2019 - Thank you for participating in the community stress test of AtomicDEX Beta. The insights we have gained from this stress test will allow us to deliver you a top notch DEX. We will announce the winners tomorrow. Stay tuned and happy Halloween

31st October 2019 – ca333: The Komodo team, specially our developers and QA experts, would like to thank all participants for their commitment and support during the first atomicDEX stress-test which was primarily held to collect backend, network and DEX-protocol metrics during the extreme high load and dynamic orderbooks. This is a high-level transparency report to summarise the events, results and details of this test. We executed the stress-test with a minimum underlying hardware infrastructure which resulted in network layer failures during the (unexpected) load peak with ~2000 (!) simultaneous traders. This gladly delivered us essential data and metrics that will now allow us to fix this by refactoring the protocol - i.e. the networking part (rebroadcasting, routing client connections and orders, etc.). Our current networking model does increase the load with the growing number of network broadcast messages and thus lead to this unpleasant experience as it resulted in a “network bottleneck” where only a limited number of trades went through. Over 150 testers have been able to successfully execute almost 600 swaps during the stress-test and we want to highlight how important this stress-test in a limited environment is/was for the developers and engineers at Komodo.

~~[[[SEP]]]~~ Our experts will optimize the affected layer over the coming weeks and as soon as the DEX is ready for a full scale test (with multiple trading pairs and automatic spam clients) we will announce the next stress-test (with bigger prize pool) which will focus on the general trading experience as opposed to the load-test of this time. ~~[[[SEP]]]~~ We will announce the winners tomorrow together with the final numbers (successful swap statistics will increase) and our team will also randomly honor testers that have not made it into the leaderboard! Thank you for your time and participation to help us perfect the DEX system.

2nd November 2019 – AtomicDEX Stress Data analysed over the last two days

2nd November 2019 - We now have a list of the stress test winners! The prizes will be sent during the coming days. Huge thanks again to everyone who participated and kept going during the test. Komodo will announce the next phase of stress testing as soon as the DEX is ready for a full-scale scenario, in which multiple trading pairs will be tested while automatic spam clients bloat the network. We also decided to send 0.777 KMD to everyone who kept testing but didn't win a prize. Keep testing the AtomicDEX app and send us feedback. We are continuously developing the application and thinking on how to improve it for the full release. We are looking to create one of the best wallets out there! <https://komodoplatfrom.com/first-atomicdex-stress-test-successfully-completed/>

18th December 2019 - In August 2019, Komodo introduced nSPV technology, the next generation of Simple Payment Verification (SPV). This new nSPV technology is hundreds, or in some cases even thousands, of times more efficient than traditional Electrum SPV server methods. As development continues on nSPV, several additional features are emerging. Read more here. <https://komodoplatform.com/advancing-nspv-technology/>

20th January 2020 - Komodo Community Portal Soft Launch We are pleased to announce a territorial expansion for the Komodo community. Now, in addition to Discord, you can engage in discussions in a more forum-like environment. We believe Komodo has one of the most vibrant communities within the blockchain space, and the discussions on Discord are often insightful and inspiring. However, Discord is far from ideal as a platform for these conversations. Good threads often get lost after a day or two, and finding or archiving them is a nightmare. We believe the Komodo community deserves something better: our very own community portal. The Komodo Community Portal has entered a soft launch period, during which we invite our whole Discord community to try out the portal. Please send us your feedback, ideas, and feature requests. You can start using the portal. There won't be any "portal reset." The posts you create will be there also after we have officially launched on February 3rd. Komodo Community Bounties As some might have noticed, we haven't distributed December community bounties yet. We have saved those up to have a bigger bounty pool for January. We will announce the community award winners in early February. What you need to know is that we will assign a lot more weight for being active on the new Community Portal relative to other community contributions. We will also reward helpful feedback and other useful ideas about portal structure, feature requests, or so forth. Get active today, and stay tuned for the bounty announcement! Leave your portal feedback either - through a form: <https://forms.monday.com/forms/d0c3077d09ac6754b8f1c73058f1012a> - publicly on the portal: board 'Casual Discussion,' tag your post with "Feedback." Join the Komodo Community Portal: <http://community.komodoplatform.com/> P.S. There is no need to promote the portal externally at this point. We are planning a full launch campaign for February 3rd. Let's focus on improving the portal experience, so everything is polished for the official launch.

21st January 2020 – Biweekly Update on KomodoPlatform <https://medium.com/paradigm-fund/komodo-antara-framework-improving-upon-the-atomicdex-komodo-community-portal-soft-launch-531dbd3e0c53>

21st January 2020 - <https://github.com/KomodoPlatform/komodo/releases/tag/0.5.2>

25th January 2020 - Get a weekly update every Friday from the Komodo Community Portal Daniel posted the first update yesterday; check it out. As some of you probably noticed, the Komodo marketing team did not send out the weekly newsletter last Friday. That's because, as one of our adjustments for 2020, we will be switching to a monthly format for the newsletter. We will still post a weekly update to the community but, rather than sending it out to the email list, we will publish it right here on the community portal. The Komodo team is committed to keeping the community informed about developments and happenings with the project so we do want to continue putting information out weekly. At the same time, we want to populate the portal with useful content and increase engagement with our email marketing efforts by sending newsletters that are less frequent but of much higher quality. <https://community.komodoplatform.com/feed/komodo-digest/>

29th January 2020 - We are happy to announce that our website is now available in Korean!
